

Announcing an Upcoming Advanced Course for Lay Servants

The Power of Storytelling In Preaching

Look at Stories and the Power of Storytelling in a new Light. This three class course will encourage Lay Servants to reconnect With the Power contained in Stories. It will lead You, then drill You in the effective use of illustrative stories in Your Sermons.

The companion textbook is Dancing With Words, by Ray Buckley. It is a reverent look at the Legacy, Culture, and Faith communicated Through stories in a social order just slightly different than our own. Copies are available via this link at Amazon.Com.

The Objectives of this course:

- To consider the history, art, preparation, and presentation of stories
- To tell a brief story from personal experience
- To develop and Re-Tell a brief story based on a Parable of Jesus
- To relate to the group a Personal Account of a Spiritual Event
- To Select and Develop a Story to be told during the final session
- To support the other participants and to accept their support in return
- To Enable Participants to bring their listeners to the Word through the illumination and attraction of Stories presented while preaching
