THE DOMINO EFFECT:

Launching a New Service to Create Momentum for Your Church.

Launching a new worship service for a new constituency is the single most helpful thing most American churches could do to unlock God's future for their communities. It is not a silver bullet, but when done right, this pushes a church into much of the critical work necessary to reroot themselves in twenty-first century community. And it will help them bless a lot of people who have never known that "church could be like this."
