PART II PERTAINING TO ORDAINED MINISTERS AND LOCAL PASTORS (Questions 17-56)

Note: A (v) notation following a question in this section signifies that the action or election requires a majority vote of the clergy session of the annual conference. If an action requires more than a simple majority, the notation (v 2/3) or (v 3/4) signifies that a two-thirds or three-fourths majority vote is required. Indicate credential of persons in Part II: FD, FE, PD, PE, and AM when requested.)

17. Are all the clergy members of the conference blameless in their life and official administration (§§604.4, 605.6)?

Bishop Weaver, the vast majority of clergy exercise their duties faithfully within the bounds of our covenant with God and each other. We celebrate the spiritual vitality evident in one another and in the congregations we serve.

We acknowledge that Christian leadership is demanding, potentially wounding and often dangerous to fragile human spirits. We confess that, overwhelmed by the magnitude of our sacred calling, we find ourselves sometimes conforming to the standards of the world rather than being God's agents of transformation. Many of us have succumbed to the norms of the culture, defining our personal worth by our compensation; feeling demeaned if we have not been affirmed with an increase in salary, or offered what we perceive to be the "right" appointment.

Some of us place restrictions beyond the parameters defined within the covenant on our ability to itinerate thus hindering the work of the Holy Spirit through the appointment process.

There are some who have neglected the sacred task of caring for their congregations, watching hopelessly and helplessly as congregations decline and doing little to equip God's people for renewal and fruitful discipleship. Some have not been faithful in submitting statistical and other reports on time; a few have not submitted these reports at all, thereby disrupting our covenant of mutual accountability.

Various complaints have been filed against members of the body. At every stage of the complaint process, the Bishop has sought means of healing, acting out of a restorative, rather than vindictive stance. This is not an abrogation of accountability, but a means of achieving accountability within a system that seeks to serve God, putting things right, seeking healing for both victim and perpetrator.

We also confess that we are often far from being "united in trust." We sometimes find ourselves suspecting one another's motives and even undermining one another's labors. Because we mirror the society in which we live, we are sometimes cynical and critical of the very source of our life, the church, the body of Christ. Distrust among us, often manifests itself in the way we respond to those we serve, the way we approach what it means to be a people called and sent to serve in the name of Christ, the way we interact with those who are different from us but are persons of sacred worth created in the image of God. We stand convicted as participants in cultural and ecclesiastical systems which function by racist practices, marginalizing persons of color, both clergy and lay within the bounds of the New England Conference.

We live at an accelerated pace which often causes us to neglect ourselves spiritually and physically, reduce our commitment to family and friends and neglect healthy disciplines for both our bodies and souls.

As we celebrate the faithfulness grace already makes possible in us, we acknowledge our many shortcomings, some of which are known only to God and a few individuals among us. We stand before God in this annual moment of accountability acknowledging our need for forgiveness and the gift of God's grace. We commit ourselves to a renewed and renewing covenant with God, with one another as partners in ministry and with those we serve. May God empower us to live into the future as a people "transformed by the Holy Spirit, united in trust" as we boldly proclaim Christ to the world.
